

Introduction

This Privacy Statement will help you understand what data we collect from you, why we collect it and what we do with it. This policy explains how we store and use your personal information when you use or interact with our website, or where we otherwise obtain or collect your personal information. This Privacy Statement applies to all services offered by us, except where otherwise noted.

This statement also explains how we protect any personal data we obtain directly or passively from you or which we obtain indirectly from other sources.

We have done our best to present the information in this policy in clear and plain language, and we have structured it in a way to allow you to quickly find the information that is most important to you.

We reserve the right to change our privacy statement from time to time. We will update the Privacy Statement page content and last modified data on our website. This privacy statement was last modified 22 May 2018 (to come into effect on 25 May 2018).

Privacy Statement

We are committed to keeping your personal data safe and to ensuring the integrity and security of any personal data we may process.

You should read this privacy notice very carefully as it contains important information on the way in which we will process your personal data, in particular:

- The personal information we collect about you
- Our legal bases for processing your personal information
- What we do with your personal information
- Who your personal information may be shared with
- Your rights as a data subject under the Data Protection Regulation

If you have any questions about this Privacy Notice, please contact the Data Champion from the subsidiary company that you are dealing with for further information.

Who we are

1pm plc is a company incorporated and registered in England with company number 05845866. 1pm plc is the controller of personal data relating to individuals within its client firms and prospective client firms for the purposes of providing products and services, relationship management, marketing and business development.

What personal data do we collect about you?

We collect personal data about you when you apply to buy our goods and/or services. This data will relate to personal identifiable information (such as name, date of birth), contact information (such as telephone number, address, email), and financial information (salary, bank statements, financial accounts and credit referencing information). We may also process special categories of personal data (sensitive data) such as data about your health or medical conditions.

Prior to processing special category data, we will gain your informed and explicit consent. For more information on consent click here

Our legal basis for processing your personal data

We may rely on a number of legal basis for collecting and further processing your personal data, which are:

- Contractual Necessity
- Legal Obligation
- Legitimate Interest
- Consent

Contractual Necessity

We collect personal information about you when you request our products or services. We will ask you to provide some information about yourself.

We will also collect personal data for the purposes of the performance of a contract with you, such as:

- Providing you with our products
- Providing you with access and use of our services
- Administering your account with us
- Communicating with you about our products and services
- Communicating with you about your account with us (including call recording/monitoring)

Legal Obligation

We may also process your personal information to allow us to comply with certain legal obligations to which we are subject. We will also work co-operatively with the national data protection authority, the ICO, in relation to any data protection matters. Where we are subject to regulation or national law enforcement we may process your data to meet our legal and regulatory requirements.

Legitimate Interest

We may use your personal data for our legitimate business interests, whilst carefully considering and balancing any potential impact on you and your rights as a data subject under the relevant data protection regulation.

This may include processing your personal data to allow us to provide the best services and customer experience and to ensure our service remains relevant and tailored to your needs.

We will always ensure that our legitimate interests will never override your rights and freedoms under the data protection regulation.

As an example, we may rely on our legitimate interest to process your personal data for the following purposes:

- For Direct Marketing, relating to products and services that are compatible with the original purpose for which we originally gained the information
- To communicate with you, including newsletters and marketing materials
- To communicate important updates about our products or services, which we think may be of interest to you

- For evidential purposes to effectively manage and maintain records of our relationships/communications with you
- For business development related activity such as contacting you by telephone or email to arrange meetings with our experts in relation to work or knowledge sharing
- To enhance, modify, personalise or otherwise improve our services and communications for the benefit of you
- To determine the effectiveness of promotional campaigns to inform marketing strategy

In addition, we may use legitimate interests to perform statistical and other analysis on the personal data we collect, to help us understand and improve how people use our products or services.

Please note, you have the right to object to the processing for which we rely on legitimate interest as the legal basis. You can do so and update your marketing preferences by opting out of future marketing materials as they arrive or by contacting the Data Champion from the subsidiary company that you are dealing with.

Consent

We are required to gain your explicit consent prior to processing your data for any other purpose other than the original purpose for which it was gained.

Where we require such consent, we will provide you with sufficient information to allow you to make an informed decision. We will ensure that we only gain consent via a clear and affirmative act, freely given by you that indicates your consent to specific purposes.

You have the right to withdraw your consent at any time and can do so by opting out of future marketing materials as they arrive or by contacting the Data Champion from the subsidiary company that you are dealing with.

Your rights as a data subject

As a data subject you can exercise certain rights in relation to the processing of your personal data, under the relevant data protection regulation. These are:

- The right of access
- The right to rectification
- The right to erasure
- The right to restrict processing

A condensed guide to the use of your personal information by ourselves, 3rd parties and at Credit Reference and Fraud Prevention Agencies

- 1) When you apply for finance with us (Car Finance 2U Limited), your details will be passed into a 3rd party company BlueOwl Network Ltd T/A Autoconvert.co.uk (contact details below), this organisation will check the following records about you and with their chosen Credit Reference Agency (CRA), Equifax Ltd (contact details below)
 - a) Our own;
 - b) Autoconvert.co.uk.
 - c) Those at Equifax Ltd. When Equifax receives a search request from us via Autoconvert, they will place a soft quotation footprint that will be visible to you only, on your credit file, other parties including lenders will not see this. This quotation footprint will not be seen by other parties and will not affect your credit score/rating or ability to apply or finance from other lenders.
 - d) Autoconvert.co.uk will access from Equifax Ltd both public (including the electoral register) and shared credit and fraud prevention information. This information will be used to check your eligibility against a select group of lenders.
 - e) We will not see any information on your credit file, Autoconvert.co.uk will only provide a list of lenders that you are likely to be accepted for given the information supplied using their brokering technology that understands most the acceptance criteria of the lenders on their panel.
 - f) Those at fraud prevention agencies (FPAs).

We will make checks such as; assessing this application for credit and verifying identities to prevent and detect crime.

- 2) Information on applications will be sent to CRAs and will be recorded by them.
- 3) If you give us false or inaccurate information and we suspect or identify fraud we will record this and may also pass this information to FPAs and other organisations involved in crime and fraud prevention.
- 4) Your data may also be used for other purposes for which you give your specific permission or, in very limited circumstances, when required by law or where permitted under the terms of the Data Protection Act 1998.

How to find out more

You can contact our chosen 3rd Party, BlueOwl Network Ltd T/A Autoconvert.co.uk or the Credit Reference Agency, Equifax; the information they hold may not be the same so it is worth contacting them all.
